Popular Little Pink Dress event back Oct. 6

Lauren Estes
lauren@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. — The wildly popular Little Pink Dress benefit will be held at Stone Bridge Farms on Tuesday, Oct. 6, from 6-9 p.m. The annual event is a fundraiser for local nonprofit Cullman County Bosom Buddies Foundation, which supports local area residents in cancer treatment.

Foundation Board President Jennifer Limerick said tickets are $70 each, or $500 for a table for eight.

"Our goal is to encourage everyone to dress to impress in your favorite shade of pink or some accessories with pink, but pink is not required," Limerick said. "Each guest does have to have a physical ticket for admission and there is information needed to be completed on the back for a fast check-in process. Every dollar raised goes to help a cancer patient in need whether, it's a man, woman or child with any type of cancer."

After drawing a record-setting crowd in 2025, Cullman Oktoberfest is expanding its schedule in 2026 with the addition of Sunday, giving visitors a fourth day to experience one of the city's signature festivals.

Daniel Wyatt, events director for Cullman Parks, Recreation & Sports Tourism, said the decision was driven by the festival's continued growth, strong community response and feedback from guests.

"Record-breaking attendance in 2025, a growing regional draw, community enthusiasm and guest feedback on social media calling for an extra day all made the case for adding Sunday, giving more visitors the opportunity to experience the festival," Wyatt said.

The 2025 festival drew 74,000 visitors, according to organizers, continuing Oktoberfest's rise as one of Cullman's largest annual events. Wyatt said expanding from three days to four is expected to improve the overall festival experience by helping spread attendance across the weekend.

"Spreading attendance across four days rather than three should reduce peak congestion, ease parking pressure and make the experience more comfortable for families and first- » PAGE 7 group of all volunteers who raise money to help cancer patients who are Cullman County residents and in an active treatment program.

"Our goal is to help pay basic living expenses and some medical expenses as needed," she said. "No money is ever given to the patients directly, but we do go pay utility bills, purchase gas cards and groceries, gift certificates, as well as rent, mortgage payments and medical bills for the patients."

Little Pink dress debuted in October 2019.

"We did a lot of little fundraisers over the years, but the need was getting greater so we decided to create an event that everyone would want to attend," Limerick recalled. "We thought this would raise money that was worth all the effort we put into organizing and preparing for it. Roy Drinkard always attended our event – he was a big supporter of Cullman County Bosom Buddies – and Sheriff Matt Gentry decided he would auction off his cowboy hat and autograph it and Roy Drinkard was the highest bidder and won Matt's hat."

She said the absolute best and most fun part of the night is the "celebrity waiters' competition."

"City vs. county do a tip competition and the winner gets bragging rights," she laughed. "The county was always the winner until 2025, with the city taking home the win. Waiters consist of city and county officials, police, deputies, attorneys, firemen, city and county leaders, etc. The Bosom Buddies call it our 'celebrity waiters' competition.' All tips raised goes toward our event fundraiser goal. The goal is to raise $100,000, and although this has been more difficult to get businesses and banks to sponsor our event this year, we are counting on the support of our community that attend to help us raise funds to continue the volume of assistance that we provide."

Those who would like to volunteer to help with Little Pink Dress to gather auction items, help organize or just want to volunteer behind the scenes can do so by contacting the Bosom Buddies at ccbbfinc@gmail.com.

"Our Foundation operates through the Nurse Navigation program at CRMC so any patient needing assistance needs to apply for assistance through that program," Limerick said. "CCBBF also has an outreach program where we visit breast cancer surgery patients at the hospital, giving them a bag of items needed for recovery. These bags have a drain bags shirt, a shower drain bag holder, a pillow, blanket, seat belt cover, socks, mastectomy bra, breast forms, educational materials, magazines, note pad, pen, activity books to help patients through their recovery process. This small group of ladies that help have a passion for cancer patients, and not all our volunteers are cancer survivors but ladies that love to help others and have a heart to serve others."

The Bosom Buddies have an annex building located at 2201 Second Ave. NW, Suite B in Cullman where they keep supplies and materials, but hours are not set weekly.

Donations can be dropped off at the Wig Shop or Waterfront Closing and Title. They can also be mailed to: Cullman County Bosom Buddies Foundation, P.O. Box 123 Vinemont, AL 35179.

This feature originally ran in our Community Matters magazine.

At The Link of Cullman County, people are seen as neighbors, not just clients or numbers. This idea guides everything the organization does, from the food pantry to housing, jobs and life support.

"We call our people neighbors, and not clients, because we want that familial feel whenever people walk into our building," said Jonathan Creekmore, supportive services manager. "We want them to feel like they're part of the family and not somebody with a problem that we're trying to fix."

This feeling of belonging includes volunteers, staff and community partners, who all help create a caring and supportive atmosphere. Creekmore said many volunteers come back each week, not just to help, but because they feel part of a community. "We have a lot of people who volunteer here because their friends are here," he said. "It's a place where they come to refill themselves with human interaction, spend time together and give back at the same time."

The Link does more than just meet urgent needs. Staff try to understand the bigger challenges families face, instead of offering only quick fixes. For example, when someone asks for help with rent, staff also look at what might be causing the problem, not just the immediate need.

"We're not just looking at things from a surface level," Creekmore said. "If someone needs rental assistance, we want to know what's causing that need. Do they need a better job? Do they need childcare? We want to get down to the root of the issue and help them move onto a better path."

This focus on long-term support has built strong relationships and often inspires people who once received help to volunteer themselves. One woman said that after leaving a domestic violence situation and getting help from The Link, she now volunteers regularly.

With the cost of living going up, more people are turning to The Link for help. Many families in Cullman still struggle to get enough food. The food pantry now helps about 900 families each month, giving them a way to stretch their budgets and get the groceries they need. "It's not necessarily enough groceries to feed someone for an entire month but it helps get them to a point where they can supplement what they need and make it through the month," Creekmore shared.

The Link's housing programs help families stay stable and make the community stronger by working with local landlords and housing providers. Even with more people needing help, Creekmore said he stays hopeful because the community continues to offer strong support. He pointed out that anyone can get involved, whether by helping in the pantry, tutoring, leading classes, working in the office or giving monthly donations. The real difference comes from the relationships built and the sense of belonging, not just the number of meals or services given.

"Our goal is for people to feel loved and appreciated," he said.

In a world where many people feel alone or ignored, The Link shows that real support often starts with treating others like neighbors. By showing compassion, building connections and meeting people where they are, The Link's staff and volunteers have become local heroes for hundreds of families in Cullman County.

DHR (from Front)

noah@cullmantribune.com

CULLMAN, Ala. — The Cullman County Department of Human Resources (DHR) is asking the community to help provide Christmas gifts and necessities for about 150 children in foster care and approximately 100 local families facing financial hardship.

"There are kids and families right here in Cullman who need your help," Cullman County DHR Director Amy Smith said.

The families include parents who are struggling financially and grandparents raising grandchildren on fixed incomes, Smith said.

DHR is seeking help from individuals, families, businesses, churches, civic clubs and other organizations to meet those needs before Christmas.

Donors may request the wish list of a specific child, family or sibling group. Smith suggested sponsoring a child in honor of a loved one who may not need another traditional gift.

"Provide Santa gifts for a kiddo in honor of your loved one," she said.

Families can also choose to provide Christmas for another household or sibling group in place of exchanging gifts with one another.

Donations may include toys and other gifts as well as groceries or ingredients for a holiday meal, hygiene products and other necessities.

Organizations and civic groups may collect items or donate money or gift cards in place of holding a traditional gift exchange.

Those who want to fulfill the wish list of a specific child or family should call Cullman County DHR at 256-737-5300 and ask for Tumika Noblett.

Donors who do not request a specific wish list may purchase toys or other items for DHR to distribute wherever the need is greatest.

Those donations may be delivered to the Cullman County DHR office, 1220 St. Joseph St. NW in Cullman, through the week before Christmas. The office lists hours of 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m.

Smith said delivering items by that week will give DHR staff enough time to get the gifts to children and families before Christmas.

Community members who cannot donate can still help by sharing the request with others.

Vinemont falls to Oneonta on the road, 35-8

Ryan Guthery
Tribune Correspondent

ONEONTA, Ala. — Vinemont traveled to Oneonta to take on the Redskins in a region matchup. The Eagles put up a valiant effort, but fell 35-8.

Vinemont's defense came out on fire, allowing one first down to the Redskins on their first three drives.

Early in the second quarter, Oneonta busted out a big run to put the Redskins up 6-0.

On the ensuing possession, Vinemont was forced to punt but the punt was muffed by the return man and the Eagles pounced on the ball. With 5:06 remaining in the first half, Josh Rhodes capitalized with a 2-yard run to put the Eagles up 8-6.

Two big plays by the Redskins sent them to halftime up 21-8.

With 4:28 left in the third quarter, Oneonta added to the lead, 28-8. They found the end-zone once more, early in the fourth quarter, to make the score 35-8.

The Redskins attempted to take on a late field goal, but the Eagles blocked the attempt and recovered it for a touchback.

Vinemont was able to run out the clock and finish the game with the ball in their possession.

CULLMAN, Ala. — Cullman cut a fourth-quarter deficit to five points Friday, but Mortimer Jordan held off the Bearcats for a 35-23 road win.

The Blue Devils opened with a 90-yard kickoff-return touchdown and added the extra point for a 7-0 lead. Cullman moved into Mortimer Jordan territory on its opening possession but turned the ball over on downs.

Mortimer Jordan extended its lead to 14-0 in the second quarter with a 10-yard touchdown run and another successful extra point.

The Bearcats answered before halftime when Colt Colvard connected with Grayson Gay for an 11-yard touchdown. Brooks West's extra point cut the deficit to 14-7 at the break.

A 4-yard touchdown run and extra point pushed Mortimer Jordan's advantage to 21-7 in the third quarter.

West added a 32-yard field goal in the fourth. Cullman later pulled within 28-23, after an on-side-kick recovery by Kolby Holt during the quarter. Mortimer Jordan subsequently increased its lead to the reported 35-23 final.

Cullman is scheduled to travel to Huffman on Friday, Sept. 18, for a 7 p.m. kickoff.

Meek routs Cherokee 68-14

Jared Spears

ARLEY, Ala. — Meek built a 38-point halftime lead and rolled past visiting Cherokee 68-14 Friday night.

Before kickoff, American Legion Post 223 presented the Town of Arley with a Blue Star flag during a ceremony held in remembrance of the Sept. 11, 2001, terrorist attacks.

Once play began, Meek quickly took control. After kicking off to open the game, the Tigers forced a turnover on Cherokee's opening possession.

Evan McCay returned the takeaway and was also credited with the game's first touchdown.

Meek continued extending its lead throughout the first half while keeping the Indians off the scoreboard.

The Tigers carried a 38-0 advantage into halftime.

Penalties were Meek's primary obstacle.

The Tigers were penalized seven times during the first five minutes of the third quarter, repeatedly interrupting the flow of the game.

Despite those setbacks, Meek continued adding to its lead.

Cherokee broke through with two touchdowns late in the third quarter, but those were the Indians' only scores of the night.

McCay remained active defensively in the fourth quarter, intercepting a pass before the play was nullified by a holding penalty.

Dalton Freeman then scored Meek's final two touchdowns as the Tigers closed out the 68-14 victory.

Meek will travel to Addison for a Class 1A, Region 7 matchup at 7 p.m. Friday, Sept. 18.

Noah Galilee
noah@cullmantribune.com

FAIRVIEW, Ala. — Fairview held Guntersville scoreless through halftime Friday, but a third-quarter touchdown gave the Wildcats a 7-3 road win over the Aggies.

Fairview opened the scoring with a 19-yard field goal in the first quarter. The Aggies followed with a defensive stop, taking over at their own 27 after Guntersville turned the ball over on downs.

Fairview threatened again before the quarter ended. A run by Ayden Batz moved the Aggies to Guntersville's 27, and a reception by Collin Nelson brought them to the Wildcats' 5.

The possession ended with a missed field goal in the second quarter, leaving Fairview ahead 3-0. That score held through halftime.

Guntersville broke through in the third quarter on a 4-yard touchdown run. The extra point gave the Wildcats a 7-3 lead, and neither team scored again.

Fairview received a fourth-quarter opportunity after a Guntersville punt left the Aggies at their own 12. A late turnover on downs gave the Wildcats possession at Fairview's 22 with approximately a minute remaining in the game.

The Aggies are scheduled to visit Sardis on Friday, Sept. 18, at 7 p.m.

HANCEVILLE, Ala. — Holly Pond built a 28-0 halftime lead and held Hanceville scoreless Friday, Sept. 11, in a 50-0 victory reported by the Broncos Sports Network.

Hunter Tolbert contributed two first-half touchdowns as the Broncos established an early lead and extended it throughout the game. Holly Pond led 14-0 after the first quarter, 28-0 at halftime and 40-0 entering the fourth.

The win followed Holly Pond's 65-14 loss to Oneonta a week earlier.

John Hamby opened the scoring for the Broncos, according to The Tribune's live scoring updates. Tolbert added the next touchdown as Holly Pond moved ahead 14-0 in the opening quarter.

Tolbert scored again in the second quarter, and a successful 2-point conversion pushed the advantage to 22-0. Holly Pond added to its lead before halftime, sending Hanceville into the break trailing 28-0.

The Broncos continued to pull away in the second half, adding 12 points in the third quarter while keeping the Bulldogs off the scoreboard. Holly Pond added 10 more points in the fourth to complete the shutout.

West Point falls to West Morgan in region game, 60-12

sammy@cullmantribune.com

TRINITY, Ala. — After dropping their region opener last week at home against Priceville, the West Point Warriors looked to bounce back on the road against another region opponent, the West Morgan Rebels, on Friday night. This was the first-ever meeting between both teams. After a close first quarter, West Morgan broke the game wide open in the second, scoring five touchdowns to take a 40-0 lead at the half, and they would go on to defeat West Point, 60-12.

West Point got the ball to start out the game, and Titan Thornton picked up 12 yards on his first carry of the game, getting a first down at the 42. A bad snap, followed by a short gain by Thornton, quickly put the Warriors in a third-and-19 situation, but a pass interference penalty on West Morgan made it third-and-4 from the 48.

West Point threw an incomplete pass on the next play, and they were forced to punt, but the Warrior defense forced a Rebel punt, and Carter McAfee's excellent punt return had them in business at the 23.

They didn't do much offensively on their next series, as Max Patterson was tackled 5 yards short on fourth down, giving the ball back to West Morgan.

The Rebels pounded the ball right back at the Warrior defense, getting small chunks of yardage, and later on that drive, a pair of 15-yard runs put them at the 42. A penalty backed them up 5 yards, but that didn't slow down their rushing attack one bit, as they continued to churn out some tough yards on the ground.

A 12-yard run quickly put them at the 7, and two plays later, they finished off the marathon drive with a 4-yard touchdown run. They failed to convert on their two-point conversion, and they took a 6-0 lead with 2:22 remaining in the opening period.

West Point was looking at a third-and-17 from the 21, but Patterson's arm quickly got them out of that hole, as he found Ayden Shoemaker for 27 yards and a first down at the 48.

Three plays later, the Rebel defense picked off a Patterson pass at the 44. An offsides penalty on the Warriors made it second-and-inches from the 47, then West Morgan scampered for a 42-yard gain, getting a first down at the 5. Two plays later, a 1-yard run made it 13-0. The Rebels recovered a Warrior fumble on the first play. A holding penalty quickly put West Morgan behind the sticks, but a Warrior penalty made it first-and-20. After a 4-yard run, West Morgan scored on a 36-yard pass to widen their lead to 20-0.

Another Warrior punt gave the ball back to the Rebels. They struck gold on the first play, as their 49-yard scamper to the house made it 27-0. West Point quickly went backward on their next series, and they were forced to punt once again. West Morgan added a 1-yard passing touchdown on its next series, then after a Warrior punt, both teams recovered back-to-back fumbles. The Rebels added a 39-yard score on the ground to give them a commanding 40-0 lead at the half.

West Morgan quickly found the end zone to start out the second half, as a 15-yard touchdown pass to make it 47-0. Max Patterson found Thornton (8 yards) and Skylar Echols (10 yards) for a pair of touchdowns to cut it to 47-12, but a pair of touchdown runs by the Rebels in the fourth quarter put the finishing touches on a 60-12 region win over the Warriors.

Patterson finished 8/22 for 104 yards, a pair of touchdowns and an interception. Thornton added four receptions for 33 yards and a score, while Echols collected a 10-yard touchdown reception in the game for West Point (0-4, 0-2).

The Warriors will be in search for their first win of the season and in region play next week, as they will go to Ardmore.

Addison dominates Phillips, 52-0

Brandon Evans
Tribune Correspondent

BEAR CREEK, Ala. — The 1A second- ranked Addison Bulldogs traveled to rainy James E. Glass Stadium to take on the 1-2 Phillips Bears in a region contest. It wasn't really a contest, as Addison dominated the undermanned Bears, who only dressed 15 players. The game was never in doubt and the second half was cut to eight-minute quarters (instead of 12) and the clock was running. Addison rolled to a 52-0 victory.

Phillips never crossed midfield and had only one first down on the night. The Bears had -14 yards of offense for the entire game.

On the Bears' first offensive play, Bulldog Scout Flynn crushed the running back and the ball went backward and was recovered by Noah Brenton after a 14-yard loss. On the Bulldogs' first play, Zane Smith went untouched 11 yards into the end zone for the first of many Bulldog touchdowns on the night. Smith had a career night. The extra point was missed and Addison led 6-0.

After forcing a punt on Phillips' next possession, Addison had an Elijah Roberts to Judah Wilkins' 64-yard touchdown pass called back on a penalty.

Roberts wasn't disturbed by that and found Smith, this time on a 69-yard touchdown pass. The extra point was no good and Addison led 12-0 still in the first quarter.

Phillips found their groove and had their best drive of the game on their next possession. Facing a foruth-and-5 from their own 30, Phillips' punter faked the punt and ran for 15 yards for the first down. The Bulldogs defense answered, and on the Bears' next five plays they lost 12 yards. The drive ended at their own 32-yard line on a Robert Gilmore Jr. sack.

It took Addison three plays, a long drive for them on the night, when Wilkins finally got his touchdown on a 10-yard run. Connor Lane kicked the extra point and Addison led 19-0 still in the first quarter.

After another Bear drive gained -5 yards, Addison took over and on their first play, Roberts found Wilkins for 51 yards and a touchdown. The Lane extra point made it Addison 26, Phillips 0 at the end of the first quarter.

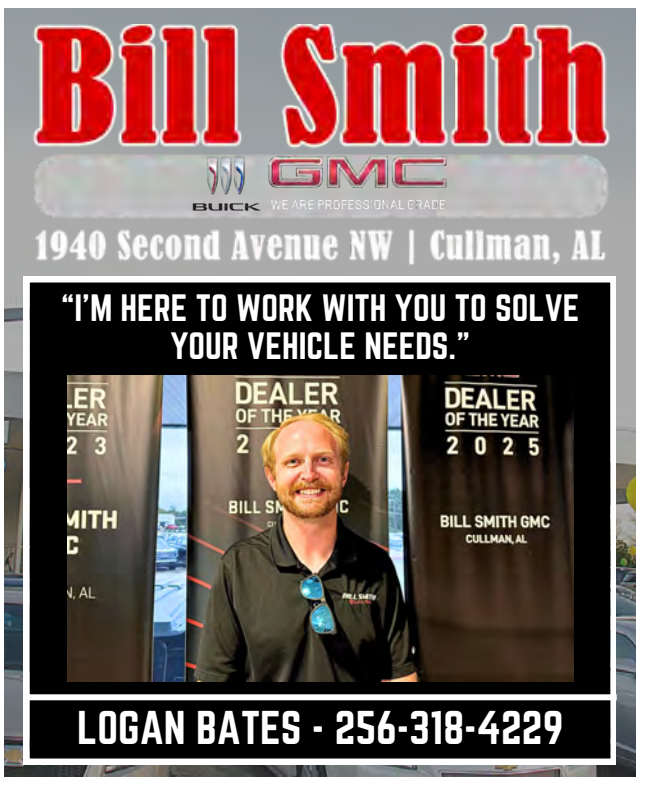

Phillips punted again, and it took the Bulldogs two plays to score as Smith scored his third touchdown of the night, this time from 3 yards out. The play was set up by a Roberts 33-yard run. The extra point was no good and Addison stretched the lead to 32-0.

Phillips went for it again on fourth down at their own 14 and failed to gain the first down. On the very next play, Smith scored from the 5-yard line for his fourth TD on the night. With the Lane extra point, Addison led 39-0 in the second quarter. This is how the half would end.

The second half was played with a running clock and shorter quarters. Addison received the second half kickoff and after a dropped pass, Roberts went 70 yards for the Bulldog touchdown. The extra point was no good and Addison led 45-0.

The Bears gained 3 yards on their drive and punted. After a Tanner Gaither 14-yard run, Joey Wilson scooted, ducked, dodged and ducked his way 31 yards for a touchdown. The Lane extra point was good and the 'Dawgs pushed the lead to 52-0. This would be how the game would end.

Addison moves to 4-0 (2-0 region) and will host county and region rival Meek Tigers next Friday. The first-team Addison defense has surrendered zero points through four games, with the entire defense giving up only seven total points this season.

Oktoberfest (from Front)

time visitors," he said.

The additional day is also expected to benefit vendors, restaurants and local businesses by giving them another opportunity to serve visitors downtown.

"An additional day means an additional revenue opportunity," Wyatt said. "Sunday gives vendors, restaurants and local shops another full day to capitalize on that foot traffic."

Planning for the expanded festival includes continued attention to traffic flow, parking, public safety, sanitation and the layout of the festival grounds. CPRST continues to work closely with local public safety officials before and during major events.

"CPRST has a strong relationship with local public safety officials, working hand in hand with them to ensure safety remains the top priority," he said. "Together, we study traffic flow and pressure points. The silver lining is that a more distributed crowd across four days may reduce the intensity of public safety demands on any single day."

Organizers continue to review the guest experience during events and make adjustments where needed.

"We are always looking for ways to make the guest experience more enjoyable," he said. "During events, we evaluate traffic flow throughout the festival and look at how we can improve the layout to better guide crowd movement."

Cullman's downtown continues to be one of the festival's greatest strengths. It has turned into the city of festivals in the past decade.

"What makes Cullman special is that even first-time guests can move through our streets with ease," he said. "The walkability of our downtown makes it an ideal setting for large festivals."

Several crowd favorites will return this year, including the Ferris wheel and double-decker carousel. Organizers are also working to add new vendors and entertainment while preserving the festival's traditional Oktoberfest feel.

One addition this year will focus on traditional Oktoberfest attire. Wyatt said more guests have been embracing the festival spirit by dressing in lederhosen and dirndls, and this year's festival will include a vendor specializing in authentic German-style clothing.

"Over the years, we've noticed more guests embracing the spirit of the festival by dressing in lederhosen and dirndls," he said. "This year we are excited to welcome the United States leader in authentic lederhosen and dirndls to the festival, giving guests the opportunity to purchase the same styles you'd find at the great Oktoberfests in Germany.

Entertainment has always been a major focus. This year, according to Wyatt, will not disappoint.

"Entertainment has always been a key part of Oktoberfest, and this year we've taken it to a whole new level," he said. "We've added some acts that will be unlike anything attendees have seen before, while staying true to the authentic feel of a traditional Oktoberfest. We don't want to give too much away just yet. Stay tuned, this year is going to be one to remember."

Senior Day will also remain an important part of Oktoberfest. Wyatt said seniors play a special role in the festival because of their connection to Cullman's history and German heritage.

"Seniors are a vital part of Oktoberfest," Wyatt said. "They are the ones who carry so much of the history of our town and our German roots, and we want to make sure they feel celebrated and welcomed every year."

Wyatt said transportation, accessibility and ease of movement through the festival grounds are key parts of Senior Day planning.

"We want to remove any barriers that might keep our senior guests from fully enjoying everything Oktoberfest has to offer," he said. "We look forward to honoring our senior community again this year. Their presence, their stories and their connection to Cullman's heritage make Oktoberfest truly special."

Accessibility remains a broader focus for the entire festival. Wyatt said organizers want the event to be welcoming for families, seniors, visitors with disabilities and guests traveling from outside Cullman.

"At Cullman Oktoberfest, we believe every guest deserves the same amazing experience regardless of age, ability or where they're coming from," he said. "Making the festival accessible and welcoming for all is not an afterthought; it is a core part of how we plan every detail of the event."

Vendor selection is also part of that planning process. Wyatt said each application is reviewed to ensure it fits the look, feel and spirit of Oktoberfest.

"German-themed food and merchandise are important to the festival's identity, and we also place a strong emphasis on unique handmade and artisan products," he said. "We are especially proud of the strong local lineup of food vendors, makers and small businesses that help make Cullman Oktoberfest special."

The festival's three biergartens will remain a central part of the Oktoberfest experience. Wyatt said the goal is to give guests an authentic biergarten atmosphere in downtown Cullman.

"Biergartens are a core part of any Oktoberfest, and we want to give our guests an authentic experience without having to get a passport," Wyatt said. "The look and feel of each of our biergartens is taken directly from what you would find in Germany."

This year's biergarten lineup will include Bitburger, a German beer brand founded in 1817. Wyatt said the addition reflects growing interest from German brands in being part of Cullman Oktoberfest.

"As word has spread about the festival, more German brands have been reaching out wanting to be part of this special event," he said. "This year we are excited to welcome Bitburger to Oktoberfest."

Guests attending the festival should expect street closures within the festival footprint. Wyatt encouraged visitors to follow posted signage and check the festival's website and social media pages for updated information on parking, road closures and other details before attending.

"Our downtown's walkability makes getting around easy, and we encourage guests to take advantage of surrounding parking areas and plan for a short walk to the entrance," Wyatt said.

Oktoberfest will remain pet-friendly, but organizers ask that pets remain on a leash and that owners remain mindful of the crowds.

Although attendance remains an important measure of the festival's reach, Wyatt said CPRST's definition of success goes beyond the number of visitors.

"Beyond attendance, our goal is for every guest to have an authentic Oktoberfest experience, to make lasting memories with their family and to make Cullman Oktoberfest a tradition they return to year after year," Wyatt said. "Guest satisfaction is one of our top priorities."

For out-of-town visitors, Wyatt said organizers want Cullman to feel welcoming from the moment they arrive.

"For everyone who travels from outside our city, we want them to feel like an honorary member of our community for the time they are here," Wyatt said.

He said the festival's continued growth is ultimately a reflection of the community behind it.

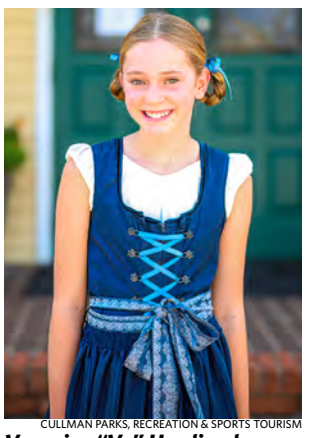

What truly makes Cullman Oktoberfest so special is the people," Wyatt said. "The pride our community takes in making sure every single guest feels welcome and at home is what sets all of our festivals apart."

Cullman Oktoberfest 2026 will take place Oct. 1-4, at Depot Park. Get more details about this year's festival at www.CullmanOktoberfestival.com.
